

Cancellation and Refund Policy

Membership and Pricing

Cancellation Policy for Subscription

For our paid members, you authorize us to charge you the Monthly Membership Fee to your chosen payment method for one, two, three, four and six monthly plans at the time of the initial payment and each month thereafter until you cancel or it expires. You must cancel your membership before it renews to avoid being charged the monthly membership fee for the next month. You can cancel your membership with a 30 days' notice. If you cancel your membership and your subscription term has not expired, you may continue to use the services until the end of your then-current membership period and your membership will not be renewed after your then-current membership period expires. You are not eligible for a prorated refund of any portion of the monthly membership fee when you cancel unless you give 30 calendar days' notice.

How to Cancel Your Account

Two, three, four and six monthly memberships can be cancelled with a 30 calendar days' notice. If you need to cancel you can message via email at salutationfitnessandwellness@gmail.com to process this request. You can read more about our Terms of Use here.

You must cancel or reschedule your session 24 hours in advance. In case of less than 24 hours, 50% amount of the respective session will be charged and 50% will be refunded.